

JUGENDCOACHING

Context: secondary education, pre-vocational training

Key-words: support; inclusive pre-vocational training

Description

‘Jugendcoaching’ is a professional service for pupils and legal guardians. Participation is voluntary and free of charge. According to their competences and skills the pupils learn to plan the next steps towards a vocational training. The coaching also makes a significant contribution to improving social and personal competences.

Problems linked to health problems and disability, family break-ups, a lack of basic training, financial and housing may complicate the access to working life.

HOW DOES YOUTH COACHING WORK?

Youth Coaching can take place in 3 stages. How long the advice lasts depends on your questions. Your parents or people who are important to you can also be involved in the advice.

Stage 1 – Initial chat

This is where you get general information. If you need more support, you can this in stage 2 or 3.

Stage 2 – Advice

This stage gives you a little more time to clarify the following questions:

- > Do you want to continue going to school?
- > What job interests you?
- > Is there anything that makes it more difficult for you to learn or work?

Stage 3 – Support

This stage can last up to one year.

- > You can get practical experience in the world of work and
- > you get a report with recommendations for your future.
